Top Brass Talks Cast In Secrecy

Ridgway, Bradley Confer On All Phases Of Korea

TOKYO—(Saturday)—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley opened closed door conferences today with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway on all aspects of the Korean situation in an atmosphere of unusual secrecy.

The chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff was closeted this morning with the supreme allied commander in Ridgway's Tokyo office.

The security clamp was so tight that allied sources were not even permitted to reveal General Bradley's whereabouts—although any Japanese pedestrian in the area could see the five-star general enter the Dai Ichi building.

In conference with the two generals was state department counselor Charles Bohlen, an expert on Russia.

General Bradley flew into Tokyo last night.

Meanwhile, a lull settled over the rain-swept Korean battlefield. It contrasted sharply with the recent bitter and inconclusive battle for "heartbreak ridge."

Red probing attacks Thursday night and early Friday tapered off.

It was Bradley's first visit to Japan since June, 1950. He was in the area for a week, leaving three days before the Russian-equipped Korean reds invaded the United Nations-sponsored Republic of Korea June 25.

Bradley came out to see the allied supreme commander at a time when the Korean armistice talks seemed hopelessly bogged down and the communists were making an increasing challenge to allied jet air power.

There was speculation in Washington that Bradley brought with him new high-level decisions, possibly involving new military operations in event of a total collapse of truce negotiations.

In some Tokyo quarters belief was expressed that Bradley might have been sent out to get a little closer to Ridgway. It was recalled that Ridgway's Thursday message to the reds, proposing moving the truce line from Kaesong to a village in no-man's-land, was expected Wednesday, but was delayed a day—reportedly for revision.

Bruised Tone Weds Barbara

CLOQUET, Minn.—(AP)—Franchot Tone of the movies Friday night married Barbara Payton, the firm starlet over whose affections he fought with Tom Neal two weeks ago in Hollywood.

The film couple spoke their vows in a simple, white frame house, far removed from the klieg lights of Hollywood. The ceremony was performed in front of a rose-banked fireplace in the presence of only a few relatives and friends.

"I'm so happy I could cry," Miss Payton told her mother, Mrs. Lee Redfield who telephoned from Odessa, Texas, a few minutes before the rites.

"Never Felt Better" "I never felt better in my life," said Tone, still bearing a blood-shot eye and swollen lips from the Neal affair.

In Hollywood, the unsuccessful suitor, Neal, said:

"I wish 'em every happiness. As far as my plans are concerned, marriage is the farthest thing from my mind."

"There are so many beautiful women in the world, and so little time."

Judge E. J. Johnson, probate judge for the 7,663 Cloquet residents, and a longtime friend of the Redfield family, read the service.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Miss Payton's aunts, Murel and Faye Redfield.

Some 20 newsmen and photographers, barred from the rites because of lack of space in the home, furnished a cheer-leading section for about 200 Cloquet residents, mostly teen-agers, who gathered on the lawn.

Mrs. Tone said she expects to stay in her home town of Cloquet with Tone until Oct. 3 "unless something unexpected develops."

It was the third marriage for both Tone and Miss Payton.

Cyclist Injured In Collision With Auto

A 13-year-old Lincoln boy received possible back injuries Friday night when his bicycle collided with a car driven by Russell E. Weiss, 26, Virginia, Neb., at Twelfth and N streets.

Raymond H. McCall, 740 South Eleventh, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital but was released to consult his physician Saturday.

Weiss, who was going west on N street, told Motorcycle Officer Lowell Sellmeyer he was stopped for the red light and had proceeded into the intersection at a slow rate of speed.

When he was about midway into the intersection, Weiss said, he felt the impact of the bicycle hitting his car. McCall said he was traveling north on Twelfth and was crossing the intersection on an amber light.

Lauterbach Rites To Be Held Saturday At Hallam

Funeral services for Edward Lauterbach, 89, resident of the Hallam area for 71 years, will be held Saturday, 3 p.m. at the Hallam Methodist church.

Officiating will be Rev. Samuel Beechner of Hallam. Burial will be in Zion cemetery.

Lauterbach, who died in Lincoln Thursday, was a retired farmer. He was born in Brighton, Ia., and had lived in Lincoln the past year.

Surviving are two sons, Irvin of Lincoln and Milton of Hallam; a daughter, Mrs. Viola Hillbink, Lincoln; five grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

State GOP Pre-Primary Meet Feb. 5

OMAHA — (AP) — Nebraska's republican central committee decided that the party's pre-primary convention will be held in Omaha Feb. 5.

The gathering will be in the downtown city auditorium.

David Martin of Kearney, state chairman, was authorized to select a place and date for the post-primary convention next fall.

Nearly 50 of the 86 central committee members attended the meeting, held preliminary to the $25 a plate fund raising dinner at which Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) was the speaker.

Martin told the committee that Taft's headlining of the banquet program did not constitute an endorsement of Taft as a presidential candidate by the party. It was explained that earlier efforts had been made to obtain former President Herbert Hoover and Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer as speakers.

Air Force Tool Pile At Omaha Shrinks

The Air Force grounded its high speed, $351,000,000 machine tool selection program Friday night until Oct. 15 to keep it from spinning in chaos.

A 12,000 piece pile in Omaha has dwindled to 1,800 tools in the past four weeks an Air Force material command spokesman said.

The Air Force has another stockpile at Marietta, Ga. and it has dropped from 25,000 tools to "around 4,000," the spokesman said.

U.S. Strength Gains Against Red Might, Dr. F. A. Court Says

"Our strength in the face of Russian might grows steadily by day," said Dr. F. A. Court, in addressing the Kiwanis club at the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Court, pastor of the St. Paul Methodist church, who recently returned from a tour of 11 European countries, told the group the world situation today is such that no nation can stand alone.

This can be typified he said, by a statement of a Norwegian minister who said "No one can be neutral in this kind of a world."

Although our country borders Russia, and they would invade us in time of war, we have chosen to stand with the free nations and we will make the necessary sacrifices."

Dr. Court said "Although the economic picture is dark, for there is inflation everywhere, communism has been decidedly stopped by the Marshal plan in the free nations standing together."

Dr. Court, who spoke on "Bright spots in a dark picture," said that "Our greatest hope for peace lies in the hatred of war and the belief that it cannot come because it must not."

Bands Will Invade Holdrege Oct. 24

HOLDREGE, Neb.—(AP)—Twenty high school bands and the Kearney State Teachers college band have already signified their intention of attending Marine Band day in Holdrege on Oct. 24, chamber of commerce, Secretary Cletus Nelson said.

A parade of bands is scheduled to be held on Holdrege streets beginning at 2:30 p.m. Following the parade the bandsmen will be guests of the chamber of commerce at an afternoon concert at the city auditorium. The evening concert for the general public will be held at 8:15 o'clock.

High school bands already registered include: Alma, Almena, Kas., Benkelmen, Bertrand, Bladen, Cambridge, Eustis, Gibbon, Holdrege, Holbrook, Kenesaw, Overton, Phillipsburg, Kas., Red Cloud, Shelton, Wilcox, Wood River, Wauneta, and Jennings, Kas.

Glaser New Officer Of Lutheran Group

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—Dick Glaser, Norfolk, was elected vice president of the Lutheran brotherhood, midwest synod, United Lutheran church of America, at its 12th annual convention here.

William H. Suhr, Hooper, president, and Verlin Wendt, Wisner, recording secretary, still have another year of their terms to serve.

Other new officers elected were Julius Lueschen, Leigh, statistical secretary; Arthur Denker, Papillion, treasurer, and Rev. Walter Rowdlett, Pender, pastoral advisor.

John Hutterman, Lincoln, director of the Lutheran resettlement service for Nebraska, gave a report on that project, saying that Germans who were forced to leave their homes can now come to America to live.

Rev. Alvin Peterson, University of Nebraska Lutheran student pastor, and Dr. E. B. Keisler, president of Central seminary at Fremont, spoke Wednesday before.

Car Wreck Kills Franklin Sailor

CHICAGO—(AP)—Two sailors stationed at the Glenview Naval Air station were killed Friday when their car and a semi-trailer truck collided in suburban Arlington Heights.

Sheriff's police identified them as Seaman Apprentice Robert Lee Block, 20, of Franklin, Neb., the driver, and Airman Apprentice Charles H. Knipling, 19, of Port Lavaca, Tex.

Their car was demolished in the collision with an empty fuel oil truck driven by Arthur H. Van Eps, 26, of Menomonee Falls, Wis. He was not injured.

Wesleyan 'Y' Chapters Hold Member Drive

"Fellowship and Fun in Y" is the slogan of the annual joint membership campaign of Nebraska Wesleyan Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. chapters which was launched this week.

Ray Neutzman, Y.M. president from Columbus, said a combined membership of over 300 is expected this year.

Officials of the two organizations were far from passive as they launched their annual drive. Membership booths were located at strategic indoor and outdoor locations throughout the week and no student or staff and faculty member was overlooked.

Neutzman said the Wesleyan Y chapters have planned a broad program of activities for the coming year, built around the theme "Worship, Service and Recreation."

He said projects contemplated for the year include bringing timely speakers to the campus; visitation programs at local hospitals; continuation of traditional Christmas and Easter matins; and a broad on-campus program to help all students to adjust themselves to a Christian type of college life.

Ann Baumgartner, McCook sophomore, is Y.W.C.A. membership chairman and Dayton Olson, Big Springs sophomore, handles recruitment details for the Y.M.C.A. unit.

Texas Crash Kills Columbus Soldier

BROWNWOOD, Tex.—(AP)—Pvt. Reinhold Brehm, 24, Columbus, Neb., died Friday from injuries suffered when his car plunged down an embankment Thursday.

Three other soldiers in the car were not seriously injured. The car plunged 30 feet into a creek on U. S. highway 84, four miles northwest of Goltwhait.

Shrine Ceremonial Is Staged At Scottsbluff

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Nearly 100 candidates were initiated here at the annual Shrine ceremonial of the Panhandle Shrine club.

The ceremonial was sponsored by the Tehama Temple Shrine of Hastings.

State Shrine dignitaries present included Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, imperial marshal of the imperial council; R. O. Canady of Hastings, Tehama temple potentate; Floyd Randolph, ceremonial master of Sesostris temple of Lincoln, and T. C. Young, ceremonial director of Hastings's Tehama temple.

School Lease Sale Halted At Stapleton

In order to obtain a restraining order to prevent sale of his school land lease, a Logan county rancher has gone into district court at Stapleton, the attorney general's office was notified Friday.

Assistant Attorney General Robert Nelson said he was informed that Louis Halstead of Logan had obtained a temporary order from Logan County Judge E. F. Carr, pending a hearing before District Judge E. G. Reed at Kearney Oct. 6.

Halstead, who holds the lease on a half section of school land, was one of three Logan county ranchers who appealed to Governor Peterson personally last week for relief from the approaching sale of the leases.

Assistant Attorney General Nelson said a representative of the board of education and funds proceeded with the scheduled sale at Stapleton today, excepting for the Halstead lease.

Nelson explained that the board will take the position, however, that the suit is not valid because litigation directed at a constitutional state officer must be brought in Lancaster county, where the capitol is.

Two days before the scheduled hearing before Judge Reed, a three-member federal court at Omaha is to hear the injunction suit brought by William Propst of Grant.

Red Cross Directors Finish Training Meeting

Nebraska's Red Cross directors Friday completed a two-day training meeting in Lincoln under the direction of John Billings, St. Louis, of the midwest area office of the Red Cross.

Directors attending the session came from Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, North Platte, Beatrice, Kearney, Scottsbluff, Hebron, Fairbury and Grand Island.

Britons' Anxiety For Their King Begins To Fade

LONDON—(AP)—Britons relaxed Saturday as anxiety for King George VI began to give way to a belief that the worst is over.

There is still plenty of awareness that the king is seriously sick following Sunday's lung operation, and there is no indication yet that he has reached the point where all risk of a relapse is past.

But the British people, seeking information beyond the scanty official bulletins, found plenty of signs of subdued cheerfulness.

1. There was no official medical bulletin Friday night for the third straight day.

2. Princess Elizabeth's decision to leave for Canada next week.

3. The visit to Ascot by Princess Elizabeth and Margaret to see the king's horse, Ash Grove, finish a poor eighth.

Out In The Sunlight

By J. E. LAWRENCE

SAN FRANCISCO—Out here in these closing days of September, a representative group of American newspaper men were giving serious consideration to government conducted behind closed doors and in secrecy. In all these years I have not seen the problem tackled in a more serious spirit.

The immediate concern was inspired by President Truman's announcement that classification of government information, previously limited to military matters, was being extended to all the vast framework of agencies and bureaus of the federal government in Washington wherein national safety may be involved. And that is a big question. Without a dissenting voice the managing editors of Associated Press newspapers took a dim view of the extension of classification of information developing within the civilian agencies of government.

Jim Pope, of The Louisville Courier, who has headed a committee on continuing study of security procedure, led the discussion. Mr. Pope and his associates have been meeting with Washington officials over a period of several months to protest vigorously against any practice that might deprive the American people of information the public should have. Under the new order, he pointed out, it would be impossible to distinguish from the most routine matters which could be construed to have bearing upon national security. While the time for study of the classification order had been limited, the opinion was expressed that the most unfortunate phase was the absence of an appeal tribunal to pass final judgment upon whether material could or could not be published by the newspapers. In the absence of appeal, Mr. Pope said the practical result of the classification program was to place the newspaper and back of them the public at the mercy of all department or bureau heads.

While chief discussion centered upon Washington, government on the local levels also came in for attention. Mr. Pope reported that in a number of cities, notably in Dayton, within recent months the issue of the right to print had been raised vigorously and with most satisfying results. He said that in Kentucky the attorney general had handed down an opinion that access to records relating to government was the natural right of all citizens, not confined solely to the newspapers, a distinct step ahead in the battle of the free press. He reported to the convention that on the local level the situation was improving.

It seemed to me that while the newspaper men were talking about government behind closed doors, they overlooked one matter of supreme importance. I mentioned it to several associates, including Mr. Pope, who indicated that when the time came for resolutions, he would give it consideration. Within a short time every American taxpayer, and that includes every wage-earner, virtually every man and woman, will become painfully aware of a new tax law. The senate has been grinding away upon it throughout the week and after the bill receives senate approval it will then be sent to conference for final drafting. Virtually every action taken by the house ways and means committee, and by the senate finance committee, has been in executive session, behind closed doors, reporters excluded, and the results announced after the meetings. Committee hearings at which individuals and groups in terested in tax legislation are admitted are open to the public but rarely if ever receive full news treatment. And the votes cast within the committees by their individual members rarely reach the public.

That, to me, is a classic example of government behind closed doors. It is an encouragement to legislative irresponsibility. If there is one matter of concern to the individual citizen today, it is his tax bill. And that concern in the light of a federal budget calling for between sixty to ninety billions of dollars in this fiscal year of 1951 will mount in the next three to four years while the need for vast armament programs add to individual interest in tax legislation. The congressional organization act at least made an attempt to pay handsome lip service to the principle of open committee hearings. But from the very beginning it has been ignored whenever the grim business of writing a tax bill is entered upon. While firing salvos administrative agencies for the secrecy of governmental operations I have the feeling that the public would profit in these tax-conscious years by more responsible information bearing upon tax legislation.

It's a small world. My luncheon companion earlier in the week was an Oklahoma newspaper man, J. Allen Thomas, of Enid. The conversation had drifted to a favorite mid-western topic, conservation and flood control. Oklahoma has had its double punishment in the form of droughts in some sections of the state and rampaging streams in others. With us was Managing Editor William Spencer of Asheville, S. C., who spoke in glowing terms of TVA. The conversation naturally drifted around to the late Senator

George W. Norris, and Mr. Thomas recalled "Grocer" Norris. "Did I know where he was?" Thomas asked. "No." This central figure in an exciting battle of more than twenty years ago is engaged in business in Oklahoma, the grocery business.

Again it is a small world. A few days before taking off for the west coast I could not resist a temptation to have a little fun with the Associated Press bureau in Seattle. In its dirge upon the loss of All-American Footballer Tom Hefferich, the nation's leading pass expert in inter-collegiate football last year (he was out for the season as a result of injuries in the first scrimmage that a fine Washington football squad held) the bureau overdid itself. The AP bureau chief looked me up last night. Someone had been thoughtful enough to send him a copy of what had appeared in this column. There were no hard feelings. He told me back in the 'thirties he had made application to me for a job and I had looked through and beyond him. A delightful chap. We walked back through some earlier history and he confessed to me that between his adopted land and the Cornhuskers, he was tortured.

Again it is a small world. On the ferry coming over from Oakland after a long train ride which seemed endless in spite of some of the most beautiful mountain country in the world, I visited with a young woman, Mrs. Harold Smith, who has been living in Lincoln the past year, but who on the closing day of September will sail for Okinawa to join her husband now stationed with the military forces there. The fogs roll in from off the Pacific and these last two days have been no exception. It is not difficult to stand at the window and gaze out over the Golden Gate where ships come and go, then reconstruct some of those years that contributed to general knowledge of a big, unknown world. We have just concluded a peace treaty with Japan, stripping that nation of the vast island chains which a military clique had seized in the dream of world conquest. They are now under a United Nations mandate, and at this time a responsibility of the American people for the preservation of order and for peaceful development. Yes, the fogs roll in and the fog horns sound, and while the city shows little of the pulsing life of feverish military preparation that was so apparent during the war years, yet there is a military atmosphere while the fighting goes on in Korea.

I find this coast so different than the eastern seaboard where everyone fears the worst, and failing to experience it seem embittered and disappointed. My old friend, Hyde Sweet, may conduct his war against "Bullifornia" but I fear these happy-go-lucky care-free crowds out here are not listening. They continue to walk with their chins up, confident that before too many years they will have left their rival sister states far in the rear. Industry dots the horizon so much that one would be justified in paraphrasing the old saw to read, "That's gold in them thar factories," but California does have one problem—probably 100 of varying dimensions—but one that is the simplest fact of life. It is short water. We came through that Sacramento Valley where the irrigation ditches were carrying the waters to fruit orchards and produce fields. This region would give its good right arm for all the flood water that spread its destruction over hundreds of thousands of acres of rich midwest land throughout the summer.

Some Vital Statistics

Despite the difficulties most colleges and universities are having with the drop in enrollment and the inevitable decline in fees, American institutions of higher learning are continuing to grow in number and strength.

In the past decade the number of colleges and universities in the United States has increased 9.4 per cent—from 1,708 to 1,868, according to the government office of education. In the same ten-year period the number of students has gone from 1,494,203 to 2,659,021—an increase of 78 per cent—and faculty staffs have gone up 67.9 per cent—from 146,929 to 246,722.

An interesting sidelight is provided by the fact that the increase in male enrollment has been 107.4 per cent, compared to only 34.1 per cent among women. These figures are a tribute to one of the greatest educational undertakings by any government in history, the G.I. bill of rights, which gave men who served their country an opportunity to obtain additional education.

How To Handle An Egg

A little machine has been invented which cleans and sterilizes an egg, breaks it, removes the contents and separates the yolk from the white, then throws away the shell. The hen and the housewife, however, are not obsolete. The hen is still required to lay the egg, and the housewife is needed to cook it.

The Flying Fleep

The army is working on a jeep which also will be able to take to the air and fly, and has tabbed it the "fleep." Since this sounds like the sound made by a dripping faucet, the suggestion is put forth here that the new machine be called the "jaleepee."

Washington Merry-Go-Round— Anti-Eisenhower Hate Literature Distributed

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — While the senate criticized RFC officials for accepting hams, two senators helped themselves to a handful of free switchblade knives the other day from the sample case of a manufacturer.

The manufacturer was Joseph Schrade, president of the Schrade-Walden Cutlery corporation, who begged the senators not to outlaw his switchblade knife as a dangerous weapon.

"Have you got one with you?" asked Sen. Olin Johnston, South Carolina democrat.

"Yes, sir," replied Schrade, hoisting up a sample case full of knives.

"I hope that you have no objection to passing a few out in the senate," blurted Sen. Herman Welker, Idaho republican, eyeing the knives covetously. "I need a good pocketknife."

"We came along with that idea in mind," agreed Schrade, anxious to please.

Welker grabbed a box of small switchblade knives and promptly began dividing them up. Then the Idaho senator spied an expensive leather-handled knife, and reached for it.

"Be careful with that," cautioned Schrade as he gloomily watched Welker take it. "Be careful with it you open. It comes out with a snap."

As Welker tested the blade approvingly, Schrade pleaded: "You don't know what a disappointment it is to me that after making a product for 50 years, I find out that they used it for crime."

"That's right," agreed the Idaho senator, still fingering the knife enviously. Then he suggested brightly: "Why couldn't the staff protect this gentleman by using language (outlawing) a 'switchblade with a blade longer than three inches'?"

Schrade agreed this would help. But as he shut his sample case, he politely took the expensive knife back from Welker—though leaving the two senators with a fistful of small knives.

"I am glad you came," smiled Welker, "but I wish you had brought some finer knives."

—SMEARING IKE—
The first step in a smear campaign to keep General Eisenhower out of the White House is being circulated in Maine. It's an unfair attempt to link Eisenhower with the communists.

The smear was printed by the so-called Partisan Republicans of California (whoever they are), and was mailed to all members of the Maine republican committee by GOP State Chairman Ralph Masterman. But the interesting thing is that the decision to circulate this below-the-belt propaganda was made at the home of a U. S. senator who happens to be masterminding the Taft-for-president campaign—Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine.

The same smear sheet also unfairly attacks Gov. Earl Warren of California and ex-Governor Stassen of Minnesota, and names them along with Eisenhower as the "three principal prospects" which communists and new dealers are expected to try to impose on the republican ticket.

The smear sheet shows a cartoon of a loving Stalin pinning a medal on a chesty Eisenhower.

Underneath is the caption: "When an arch criminal decorates an individual, this individual must have served him well."

Actually, Russia handed out medals to several prominent Americans, and the United States decorated several prominent Russians during the war-time alliance.

In another twisted statement, the smear sheet declares: "The communist party did not officially support Eisenhower for the presidency, but gave him a great vacation and boost at their convention in New York on May 20, 1944."

The anti-Eisenhower sheet also reports: "Communists unanimously greeted three great men, who were: Joseph Stalin, Marshal Tito and Dwight Eisenhower. Since then Tito has fallen into Soviet disfavor; as to Eisenhower—we have no information one way or the other."

Just to keep the record straight, it should be remembered:

1—Eisenhower is the chief target of communist propaganda in Europe. The communists have plastered western Europe with anti-Eisenhower posters, and are doing their best to sabotage Eisenhower's efforts to build up a western European army.

2—The communists also gave Senator McCarthy a boost in his primary campaign against ex-Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. When newsmen asked McCarthy about his communist support, he replied: "The communists have a right to vote." Yet the Partisan Republicans of California don't hold this against McCarthy.

3—Senator Brewster not only gave his personal okay to sending out the anti-Eisenhower literature at a time when he is trying to fight communism, but Ralph Masterman, who actually mailed the smear sheets, is Brewster's chief political lieutenant.

—GRATEFUL GUESTS—

One of the most sought-after jobs in the Pentagon is held by John P. Floyd, conference director for the secretary of defense.

Floyd's job is to arrange the itinerary and invitations to the defense department's joint orientation conferences. To these conferences, held several times a year, are invited industry leaders, professors, key publishers and other VIPs. They visit various military bases to study the defense program.

What makes Commander Floyd's job so attractive is the precedent established by some of the defense department's guests who are invited to the orientation conferences. Afterward he has received some handsome gifts.

For example, after last spring's conference, the invited guests got together and gave Commander Floyd $205 worth of flat silver, especially designed to match Floyd's family pattern. Another $25 in cash was given to Mrs. Floyd to enable her to buy a few silver trinkets. The conferees also expressed their gratitude to Floyd's assistants, giving two of them pen desk sets.

NOTE—There are two more orientation conferences scheduled for this fall.

In Step With The Sower

By ARCH DONOVAN

THEY got the Sower out of hock! A Ponzi-like investment — $2 for a marriage license — paid off. The little woman by some financial wizardry got me by the hospital cashier after waving a health insurance policy.

The case of my exit may have been heightened by the grim visage displayed on the more than six foot form of Captain Dan Casey of the state safety patrol, who insisted that I was going to see that I got home safely.

A grim look on the always-smiling Irish-faced "Danny Boy" is so rare that the Sower got a big chuckle out of it.

During the hurried preparations for departure, the wonderful nurses who had been so patient and kindly to the bald-headed old curmudgeon in Room 206 dropped around from the bustle of the morning activities for a hand shake or pat on the back and to echo the admonition that had already been given by the doctor: "Take it easy!"

THE phrase sounds like a vacation trip. But in medical circles it is a spectator sport and the Sower gets grumpy when he has to spectate and not participate.

"Take it easy" means, we found, that you transfer from the hospital bed to your own bed and use easy chair at home. You are not allowed to do anything—just "take it easy." You watch while others act.

"Take it easy" is one of those vague will-o-the-wisps that you have longed for all your life at times when you had to do something you didn't want to do. You never realized that it would be an iron chain to stop you from doing the things you wanted to do.

"Take it easy!"

Freely translated, the grumpy Sower finds it means divorcing yourself from all the things that make the world go round.

From your window you watch the robins leaping from branch to branch. Childish voices attract you by their shrill cries. Swinging their school books, the youngsters run and play, seeking the longest way to reach the things they don't want to do. But they are still a part of the world's activity.

A suggestion that the Sower stroll in the sunshine and at least appear to be a part of the busy world brought forth a brusk "No. Just remain a spectator. Take it easy."

After smoking too much and only lay back and envision the things in which you would like to participate.

It would be wonderful to: Drop into an easy chair in "Old Man" Diers' office and listen to his latest story, whispered, for per chance Mary Prince might walk in unannounced.

Speed up one's sluggish thinking by trying to follow the quick mind of Mary Prince as she tells of plans to improve the operation of that multi-million dollar spending agency, the board of control.

Check up with Betty in the secretary of state's office on how collections are coming for my filing fee for some undetermined office, and then have a political "bull session" with Jim Pittenger, "Judge" Thone, the young GOP mastermind, and Dale Whalen.

A cup of coffee would go good with Charles Moon, Blaine Yoder and Fred Putney to hear what is being discussed in higher echelons of the political parties, although all will deny that they know anything other than rumors.

Spar a few verbal rounds with Gwen and then argue with her boss, Atty. Gen. Clarence Beck, on the way the law is interpreted instead of the way the Sower thinks it should be.

It would be a thrill to watch the boys and girls at the office "beating themselves sick" to give you the best possible Morning Star.

SUMMING this all up for busy Dr. Lee Stover:

What's the chance, doctor, of getting an "O.K." to go to watch Bill Glassford & Co., make their 1951 debut—as a spectator, that I'd be satisfied to be sidelined with Bobby Reynolds.

A Thought For The Sabbath

Stories Of Famous Hymns . . .

By HORACE B. POWELL

'HOLY GHOST, WITH LIGHT DIVINE'
Holy Ghost, with light divine,
Shine upon heart of mine;
Chase the shadows of night away,
Turn my darkness into day.
Holy Ghost, with power divine,
Cleanse this guilty heart of mine;
Lose all sin without control,
Hold dominion o'er my soul.
Holy Ghost, with joy divine,
Cheer this addered heart of mine;
Bid my many woes depart,
Heal my wounded, bleeding heart.
Holy Spirit, all divine,
Dwell within this heart of mine;
Cast down every idol throne,
Reign supreme, and reign alone.

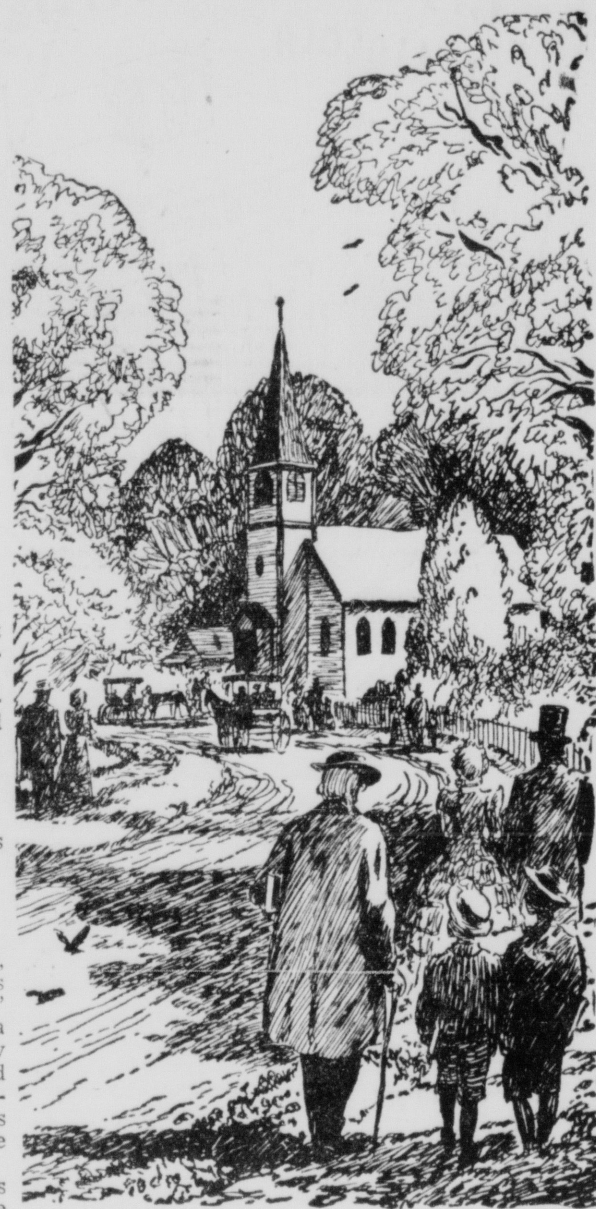

By HORACE B. POWELL
Some of Christendom's most glorious hymns have been addressed to the Holy Spirit. The Rev. Paul Gerhardt, distinguished German hymnist and pastor, gave us one of them: "Holy Ghost, dispel our sadness. Pierce the clouds of nature's night. Come, thou Source of joy and gladness. Breathe thy life, and spread thy light."

Another was written by Marcus M. Wells, a New York lawyer: "Holy Spirit, faithful Guide. Ever near the Christian's side; Gently lead us by the hand, 'Flowers in a desert land.'"

But in all the list, perhaps, there is no song as popular as "Holy Ghost, with Light Divine" which was composed more than a century ago by the Rev. Andrew Reed, English clergyman and philanthropist. When it first appeared in one of his collections of hymns, in 1817, it carried the title: "Prayer to the Spirit."

There were four double stanzas in that prayer-poem and the hymn is made up of the first half of each of the original verses.

Mr. Reed was a popular and widely known minister of the Independent church group in England. Born in London in 1787, and graduated from Hackney college, he was called to the pastorate of a church in East London where he served for more than 50 years. Along with his pastoral work and religious poetry, he gave much of his time to philanthropic causes. In England today he is remembered as the founder of the London Orphan Asylum and other institutions for homeless, friendless children.

The Forgotten Hoe

Haigler, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In my school days we had to walk four miles to school, if a buffalo trail happened to go our way. We took off our shoes because shoes cost money and pennies were very precious. All the neighborhood children boasted about the snakes they had seen, but outside of a menagerie, I had never seen one. My mother was ill and my trips to school not so frequent, but I had to study at home. My father saw to that.

One morning I started out with a hoe and lunch for my father who was planting corn in the sod with a hand planter. He always went to work early and appreciated a lunch. The field was about a mile from home, and when I arrived he wanted to know why I had brought a hoe. "To kill the snakes," I told him, although I hadn't seen any. On my way back, walking leisurely and humming a tune, I came unexpectedly upon a rattler and never ran any faster in all my life, or even as fast. When I reached home, and told my mother, she said to remember that the Bible says, "Flee from sin as you would from a serpent," and I never forgot that Father came home and asked what I had done with the hoe. The hoe had been forgotten and left behind.

Avoid These Two

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Who can beat whom in the race in what party for the presidency in 1952? Well, if we could dispense with the two following groups in the United States and get some honest, humble Christian citizens to run for all the offices, we could bring America back to God and to real happiness. It can be done, but first we must stop voting for and listening to the internationalistic politician who has everyone's interest at heart but those of God and America, and second—the holier-than-thou hypocrite who is like the other but a thousand per cent more vicious in that he indicates his own good qualities, the bad qualities of others, and never does a thing for anyone except himself.

A Free Choice

Pierre, S. D.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the beginning, after having made the heaven and earth and populating it, God was supposed to have looked at it and found it good. Even today He perhaps finds very little wrong with His work except for the people in it.

Laws were instituted, beginning with the ten commandments. Today laws are multitudinous and affect nearly every human action. It appears that God, in all His wisdom, could not devise a plan for man, which He made in His image, incorruptible and indestructible. Regardless of claims to the contrary, evolution and the progress of the human race have been more the result of the influence of jungle law—survival of the fittest—than the result of the influence of church and governing bodies. Idealism is in continual conflict with materialism.

With all of its obvious faults, our two-party system of government comes nearest to reconciling this conflict. But even as our two-party system is basic in natural law, it takes two to multiply, to make a bargain—or start a quarrel.

In view of this, it appears to me that we must accept the will of the majority, and we must have an enlightened and alert minority in order to have peace, progress and prosperity. It is the price that must be paid for independence, security, freedom from want and fear.

Here is the idea I want to express. If the two-party system is better than all others for political rule, what is wrong with letting communism compete with capitalism? Why have all this bloodshed over the issue? Under capitalism there is incentive for production. In England today there is none. Under communism there is none. The Communists must be administered by a dictator using force and fear, capitalism with a broad administration, leaving the individual free to do his own choosing. If he knows want and fear it has been of his own choosing. I maintain that we should let the best man and the best system thrive.

Record Attendance Is Chalked Up For Annual N.U. Rooters Day

Farmer Is Featured On Panel

BY HOMER FINE
(Farm Editor, The Star)

The sixteenth annual Rooters' day at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture was an overwhelming success Friday, with a record crowd of between four and five thousand swine breeders and producers from Nebraska, northern Kansas and eastern Iowa attending.

A farmer was added to the panel of swine experts this year for the first time, and the innovation proved to be a high point of the afternoon program. He was Walter Chace, swine breeder near Pilger, who told of his pork production problems, and how they were met in large-scale operations.

During the morning farmers and researchers go together at the new swine research center at Seventy-fourth and Adams for a look at experimental pens of Durocs, Hampers and the Montana No. 1's, which will be discontinued next year. The research staff explained anti-biotic studies, examples of experimental crosses and metabolism cages.

Questions, Answer Period
The afternoon program, held on the agriculture college campus, featured a panel made up of Dr. George A. Young, Jr., nationally known swine authority of Austin, Minn.; Farmer, Chace and Dr. Merle Brinegar, who is in charge of swine investigations at the university. For a popular question and answer period where farmers and swine breeders held a clearing house on disease, feeding and housing problems, the panel was joined by Dr. Cecil Blunn, animal breeder at the university. Dr. D. R. Warner was moderator.

Dr. Young, who was born at Syracuse and is now with the Hormel Institute, told the group that disease has undermined the swine industry to the point where 33 per cent of pigs born alive never live to reach market.

The swine researcher declared that anti-biotics are being exploited commercially by being over emphasized. A ray of hope was seen by Young, however, in the race by industry to find new and better ways to fight diseases in swine production.

Research Report Made
Dr. Brinegar reported on research projects being carried out at the university's swine research center, and released the center's new circular on "Nutrients, Feeds and Example Rations for Swine."

The grain and hay drying short course, meanwhile, was concluded at the agricultural engineering building at the college of agriculture Friday. The short course was held Thursday and Friday on requirements for safe grain and hay storage, fan characteristics, selection of fans, blowers and air dust distribution systems using heated and unheated air, as well as complete distribution systems and demonstrations of installations.

Farmer At Huntley Killed By Hay Baler

HUNTLEY, Neb.—Walter Hoesch, 32, lifelong resident of this community, was killed instantly Thursday when a hay baler fell on him.

His body was found under the machine by his wife who went to search for him after he failed to come home for lunch. It is believed he attempted to lift a part of the baler and it fell on him.

A veteran of World War II, he served four years in the air force. Surviving in addition to his wife are two small daughters and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoesch, Holdrege.

Hostage Put 'Salesmanship' To Work During Hectic Ride

KEARNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Salesman Keith Phillips "used salesmanship" as he never had before during a long night's ride from Goodland, Kas., to Holdrege, Neb., as a hostage of a pair of youthful kidnappers.

Shortly after Phillips and Lela Still, a hotel waitress, were released Friday two youths identified as Marvin A. Law, 16, of Oshkosh, Neb., and Arnold L. Lingo, 15, of San Antonio, Tex., were arrested. Phillips said he was going to blow my guts out, I felt just as the gun went off and he missed me. "After he dumped me out of the car, I knew, regardless of the outcome, I had to do something to get Lela released. I lay there until they got up the road and then ran about a mile in my stocking feet to a farmhouse and asked them to call the sheriff. Lingo had told me that he wanted to cripple me in the leg so I couldn't get up, but he missed . . ." Phillips said.

Crime Trail Halted For Two Youths

Pair Plead Guilty To Kidnaping, Theft

KEARNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Two teen-aged youths accused of a 32-hour kidnaping and robbery spree over three states pleaded guilty in a County court Friday to kidnaping and car theft charges.

The two youths—Marvin A. Law, 16, of Oshkosh, Neb., and Arnold L. Lingo, 15, of San Antonio, Tex., who said they were prep school students at a Colorado Springs, Colo., Bible school, were arrested Friday morning.

They entered their pleas before County Judge Harvey Wilson at Kearney to charges based on abduction of a Gibbon, Neb., merchant and theft of his car. Both was bound over to District court. The arrest came several hours after a traveling salesman and a hotel waitress at Goodland, Kas., were forced at gunpoint to drive two youths into Nebraska.

Authorities closed in on the pair after the salesman and waitress had been released unharmed. The youths were caught as they drove onto Highway 30 from a side road three miles east of Shelton, which is 19 miles west of Kearney.

3-Day Escapee
Sheriff Frank said Lingo tried to pull a loaded 22 caliber revolver from his belt when apprehended. The gun discharged, and Lingo suffered a superficial wound in his side.

Sheriff Frank said the three-day escapee started at Colorado Springs Wednesday when two youths held up a taxi cab driver. The trail then led to Kansas. At Goodland, shortly after midnight Thursday, the salesman and the waitress were forced at gunpoint into the salesman's car.

The auto bearing the four went to Overland, Kas., then north to McCook, and east to Holdrege. Four miles north of Holdrege, the salesman, Keith Phillips of Oakley, Kas., was forced out of the car on a country road. His shoes were tossed into a cornfield and some shots were fired.

Phillips walked to a nearby farmhouse and called Phelps County Sheriff G. Royal Hanson of Holdrege. This was about 5:15 a.m. Road blocks were set up. Later south of Kearney, the waitress, Miss Lela Still, was kicked out of the car. In a parting gesture of generosity, the youths gave her a roll of bills as they left.

From then on, this was the story, according to Sheriff Frank.

The youths went into Gibbon and entered a general store owned by M. A. Woods. They forced Woods to accompany them in Woods' car. They went down a side road to check the car.

This gave the sheriff time to set up his road blocks. The capture took place about 8:05 a.m. as the youth came off a side road onto Highway 30.

On being questioned, the youths "admitted everything," according to Sheriff Frank. He carried a clipping from a paper giving details of the start of the escapee in Colorado Springs.

Late Friday Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. JOHN WILKINSON

music. Mr. Roberts also played the wedding music.

Mrs. R. L. Higgins was the matron of honor and her sister's only attendant and wore an afternoon frock of wool crepe in the rust tone. Designed with a standing collar, bracelet-length sleeves and slim skirt, her costume was completed by a brown cap and accessories. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bride wore for her wedding a frock of moss green silk crepe designed in the daytime mode. A softly-rolled collar framed the deep V-neckline of the bodice, which had three-quarter length sleeves, and the peg-top skirt tapered to a narrow hemline. Bronze iridescent beading trimmed her capot of brown velvet, and her accessories were of matching brown velvet. She carried a cluster of bronze-toned orchids.

Serving his brother as best man was Roger Wilkinson.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlors of the church where a pale yellow wedding cake encircled with bronze pompoms and yellow daisies, and tall bronze tapers in silver holders, appointed the bridal table. Included among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. J. C. Higgins, Mrs. W. A. Gillan, Mrs. H. R. Craig, Mrs. W. E. McConaughy, Miss Janice Corrick, Miss Susanne Hoffman, Miss Ruth Randolph, Mrs. Carl Hansen and Mrs. T. L. Higgins.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson will reside at 2311 South street.

Mrs. Wilkinson is a June graduate of Christian college, Columbia, Mo., and the bridegroom is a former student of Fairbury Junior college and Peru State Teachers college.

MRS. ROBERT LEE GOOD

Bride At Morning Ceremony

At a 10 o'clock morning ceremony, solemnized Friday, September 28, at St. Mary's Cathedral, Miss Shirley Gessner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gessner, became the bride of Robert Lee Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Good. Spreading a range of white chrysanthemums, appointed the altar and filled the chancel, and white satin corded tied with bows of satin marked the pews the length of the processional aisle.

Msgr. L. V. Barnes of Holy Family church read the lines of the service, and the wedding music was played by Miss Catherine Gillespie. Miss Gillespie also presented a prelude of organ music including "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," preceding the ceremony.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Phillip G. Myers of Pierce, and Miss Suzanne Good, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Virginia Gessner, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. The honor attendant, in soft green, and the bridesmaids, in autumn gold, wore alike frocks of silk taffeta. Taffeta cording accented the scalloped, decollete necklines of the molded bodices, which had brief sleeves, and the corded motif was repeated in the trim of the full skirts which were caught up at the front hemline to reveal frills of pleated tulle. Braided bandeaux of taffeta trimmed with brief nose-veils completed their costumes, and they carried bouquets of chrysanthemums, Mrs. Myers in the gold tone, and the bridesmaids in shades of copper and bronze. Wearing a frock of embroidered organza and a headband of white velvet was the flower girl, Miss Annette Gessner, sister of the bride.

A deeply squared neckline designed the bride's period gown of white satin. Long, fitted sleeves widely cuffed in satin accented the torso bodice which was completed beneath the waistline by shallow scallops, and the circular flaring skirt ended in a train. Seed pearls patterned the cap of satin which held her English illusion veil, and she carried a white prayer book ornamented with a white orchid.

Joseph R. Good served his brother as best man, and the corps of ushers included Larry Good, D. Bruce Engel, Gene A. Gessner and J. Donald Wagner.

A wedding breakfast for the members of the family and bridal party was held immediately following the ceremony at the Hotel Cornhusker, followed later in the afternoon by a reception for the two hundred wedding guests. Chrysanthemums in the autumn shades appointed the bridal table for the reception, and included among those assisting were Mrs. P. J. Meehan, Mrs. Roland F. Mueller, Mrs. B. G. Clark, Mrs. J. F. Gilligan, Mrs. Richard Hall, Miss Hulda Gessner, Mrs. David B. Makepeace, Mrs. James H. Carrier, Mrs. Loren Lamborn, Mrs. D. Bruce Engel, Miss Wendy Makepeace, Mrs. James H. Hannaway and Miss Carolyn Hild, all of Lincoln, and Mrs. E. D. McVane of Norfolk.

Mr. Good and his bride will make their home at Iowa City, Iowa, where the bridegroom is completing graduate studies at the University of Iowa. Mrs. Good wore for traveling a suit of brown wool with brown velvet accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride has attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta, Newman club and Phi Chi Theta. Mr. Good is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Mr. Savage will also accompany Miss Marie Ryan, who will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Probers Demand Boyle's Bank Books, Income Tax Returns

RFC Dismisses Employee On TV Set Gift Charge

(From Press Dispatches)

WASHINGTON—Senate investigators demanded Friday that the bank records of William M. Boyle, jr., democratic national chairman, be produced in the inquiry into charges that Boyle used political influence to get RFC loans.

The senate investigation's subcommittee also decided to seek full access to Boyle's 1949 and 1950 income tax returns.

The actions were taken after Theodore Link, St. Louis Post-Dispatch reporter, testified he learned from two "very reliable" sources that Boyle accepted $8,000 from American Lithoford Corp. while an official of the democratic national committee.

Boyle told the committee Thursday the company paid him only $1,250 and that the payments had nothing to do with the company's RFC loan application.

Full Access

Chairman Hoye (D-NC) ordered another effort to get full access to Boyle's income tax returns after Sen. Nixon (R-Calif.) protested that the parts which Boyle let the senators examine "would not show income from interest and investments."

The group ordered Boyle's bank accounts subpoenaed.

Link told the senators he could not divulge the source of his information about Boyle's relationship with Lithoford at this time.

Meanwhile, the RFC Friday fired James O. Hoover, a loan examiner in its Washington office, on charges that he accepted a television set from a company for which he recommended a $1,400,000 RFC loan.

RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington also announced suspension of Edwin R. Willard, a $9,200-a-year engineer in the Washington office, on charges of receiving a television set in the same case.

Hoover's salary was $10,000 a year.

Improper Activities

Symington said both employees were guilty of "improper activities." He added there were mitigating circumstances in Willard's case which are still under investigation.

Symington said the loan was approved Dec. 12, 1949, for the National Union Radio Co. of Orange, N. J.

Reed, Joyce Head Advance Gifts Group

Bert L. Reed and Richard O. Joyce have been appointed chairman and vice chairman respectively of the advance gifts section of the Community Chest campaign in October.

Reed is vice president of the Kirkpatrick-Pettis company and Joyce is vice president of Henkle and Joyce Hardware company.

Both have been prominent in civic affairs, particularly with the activities of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross. Mr. Reed has been active for years in the advance gifts section and has served two-three year terms on the board of directors of the chest.

Mr. Joyce was general of the employee's classified division in the successful chest campaign last year.

The division solicits in advance of the general solicitation contributions from corporations, business firms, and certain individuals.

The division will be expected to raise approximately 50 per cent of the goal of $342,684.

The two leaders have selected their assistants as follows:

Enlisting workers for the employees classified division is well under way, according to Walter S. Henrich, general of this division. He has appointed four lieutenant generals for the four main groups. They are:

Father Conroy stated that "our youth today are the target of the ever known device for the pro-

The Lincoln Red Cross, hoping for the first time to make its quota of much-needed blood donations, did just that Friday with 201 pints accepted, one over the quota mark.

Del Leinemann, recruitment chairman, reported that 256 donors—including several walk-ins—showed up to give blood, but that colds caused many rejections. Leinemann said that while the quota was met for September, the

Frost Fails To Halt Field Day; Damage Slight

Most of the crops at the University of Nebraska's agronomy farm are mature and Thursday night's frost did little damage, college of agriculture officials said Friday. Agronomy field day, starting at 9 a. m. Saturday will be held as scheduled.

Dr. John Lonnquist, corn breeder, said all of the corn in the experimental plots was well denting and the frost did little damage. The yield will be cut some, he said, in the later varieties. In the corn that was not quite mature there will be translocation of plant food to the ear for a few days despite the frost. He said there would be a "gain of one to two per cent" in the ears yet.

Soybeans Escape Damage

Ralph Matlock, temporarily in charge of research on the soybean plots, said most of the varieties "are well enough along" not to be hurt by the frost. The vegetable types of soybeans, however, were caught by the frost before maturity. They are the kind that are grown in gardens.

Most of the sorghums were reported out of danger from frost with the exception of the very late varieties.

Dr. F. D. Keim said he did not believe Thursday night's frost damaged the germination of the seed of any of the crops "unless they were in the very soft stage. He said it takes a "freeze rather than a frost" to harm the germination.

He advised farmers with frost damaged corn to put it in the silo as soon as possible.

Solons Road Group Meets

The highway study group meeting was the first held on state road problems.

The committee met in closed session to lay out a plan for study of highway costs and financing.

The legislative council's education committee was headed by Senator Cramer of Albion. The tax committee headed by Senator Lee of Fremont meets Saturday morning.

$23,857 State Fair Curb Project to Dobson Firm

A contract calling for a curb and gutter project, storm sewer and other improvements has been awarded to the Dobson Construction company on a bid of $23,857.17 by the state fair board.

The second lowest of the four bids received was submitted by the Wilson Construction company for $24,663.67. Work to be done calls for 9,850 feet of curb and gutter, 1,193 feet of storm sewer and 844 feet of four-foot sidewalk.

Saint Martyr Goretti, recently canonized for purity, has been adopted as patroness of the movement. The Fighting 69th now has over 200,000 members in this country. Establishment of the movement in the Lincoln diocese was discussed at Friday's session. The election concluded the two-day session. The final registration list showed 940 youths and 78 priests in attendance.

—Argentina— Violence Small In Revolt Try

U.S. Says Peron Plot May Have Been Staged

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(AP)—President Juan D. Peron shouted to a mass meeting under his balcony Friday night that a short-lived military uprising had been put down and a plot to assassinate him and his wife was foiled.

The state radio had announced a pre-election revolt flared Friday under the leadership of two retired generals, but was stamped out in short order, apparently with little or no bloodshed.

The only signs of violence in the capital were a few fist fights which broke out among partisans worked up by the broadcasts.

Planes Land

(A dispatch from Montevideo, Uruguay, said four Argentine military airplanes landed late Friday at Carrasco airfield in Montevideo. There were four officers, including a brigadier, and 32 army enlisted men aboard the craft. They were interned by Uruguayan authorities. It was believed they belonged to the garrison of Punta Del Indio, in Argentina.

(Washington officials keeping a close watch on the situation said there was a possibility the incident was stage dressing to bring out a heavy vote by Peron supporters in the election Nov. 11. Peron aspires to be the first president in Argentine history to succeed himself.)

The radio said, however, that artillery fire was used to force El Palomar air base outside the capital to surrender, and that the chief conspirators escaped in tanks.

Five tanks and some cavalrymen at Camp De Mayo, a big army garrison outside Buenos Aires, joined the rebellion and left the base, the radio said, but the army commander in chief, Gen. Angel Solari personally visited the camp and "recovered command."

CROP Livestock Drive Kick-Off Nets $1,159 At Gordon

GORDON, Neb. — (AP) — An auction of donated livestock at Gordon brought in $1,159.57 as a starter for the CROP "Nebraska Livestock for World Relief" drive in Gordon's farm and range area.

CROP—Christian Rural Overseas Program—provides aid in the form of food and clothing for impoverished people in other parts of the world.

The stock was auctioned off during the regular Thursday sale at the livestock pavilion here.

A two-year-old heifer given by Emil Fuchser, a yearling steer given by J. H. Vinton, a Swiss calf given by the Gordon Sales company and a pig given by Fuchser were sold, turned back and resold.

Fuchser and Vinton headed the drive in this community.

Col. Clem To Direct Fraternity Province

Col. R. L. Clem, rector of St. John's military school at Salina, Kas. and graduate of the University of Nebraska, has been appointed alumni director for province 18 of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Colonel Clem was initiated into A.T.O. in 1918 at the University of Nebraska. Province 18 includes colleges and universities in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

He became superintendent of St. John's military school at Salina in 1936 after serving as principal of the McCook, Neb. high school.

Colonel Clem is an ordained clergyman in the Protestant Episcopal church. His son, Alan Clem, is a 1950 University of Nebraska graduate and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Nebraska Dentists To Attend National Meet

Nebraska's delegation to the American Dental association convention in Washington, D. C., Oct. 15-18 will be headed by five official representatives of the State dental association. Serving as members of the policy-making house of delegates are:

East Nebraska Church Women Told Of Presbyterian Work

... U.S. Council President Speaker

Approximately 200 church women from 14 Nebraska counties heard an address by Mrs. W. Verne Buchanan, president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women at a meeting Friday morning at Westminster church.

Mrs. Buchanan, using as her theme, "Into All The World," spoke briefly about a group of Presbyterian lay women who had visited in Czechoslovakia under sponsorship of the Board of Foreign Missions, and also on work being done here in this country. Attention was especially drawn to the mountain areas where the need for hospitals and schools is acute.

She touched upon educational progress in the universities and Christian colleges which supply 75 per cent of the workers to carry on ministerial and missionary advancement.

The main portion of her address, however, was devoted to

Board Asks Pen Guard Be Demoted

A board of control investigation into Kenneth Kitts' escape from a penitentiary guard in Omaha, Sept. 14, has resulted in the recommended demotion of guard, Lt. John Duffek, Mrs. Mary Prince, chairman of the board, announced Friday.

After what Mrs. Prince termed an "adequate investigation," the board made its findings known in a statement containing four points:

"1. The board of control has made an investigation.

"2. There is no evidence of collusion.

"3. There is evidence of negligence.

"4. The board of control is recommending to the warden that Lt. Guard Duffek be given a one-step demotion for a period of further training."

Warden Herbert H. Hann said the board's recommendation will be followed and Duffek will be dropped to the rank of "guard two." The demotion means a $20 a month reduction in salary for the guard.

The board's findings also showed negligence on the part of the warden, Mrs. Prince said. Hann and Duffek were in charge of Kitts when he escaped from the Omaha court house after testifying at a federal hearing. Hann was "rebutted" because the overall responsibility for Kitts was his.

Mrs. Prince said the board hoped Duffek would use his period of "further training" to good advantage and said she was sure he will become a fine guard. He has been employed by the penitentiary for three years.

N.U. Dean Warns Nebraska May Lack Needed Engineers

Dean Roy M. Green of the University of Nebraska college of engineering and architecture, warned Friday that the state's anticipated industrial boom may suffer a crippling blow from lack of an adequate supply of trained engineers.

The statement was made at an Engineering Manpower commission session at Pittsburgh. Green attended the session with five prominent Nebraska engineers.

The others are: C. F. Moulton, power superintendent of the Omaha Public Power District; T. L. Frank, of the Northwestern Bell Telephone co., of Omaha; Leland W. Browne, president of Gate City Steel Works in Omaha; and Douglas D. Lewis, U. S. Geological Survey engineer of Lincoln.

The critical shortage of engineers was summed up this way by Dean Green:

The U. S. demand for college and industry trained engineers in 1954 will be between 33,000 and 37,000. In 1954, as the result of low freshman enrollments in 1950, there will be 12,400 graduates of engineering colleges in 1954.

Low Enrollment

Dean Green said the low enrollment is probably due to two factors:

(1) The low birthrate during the

Truman Signs Authorization To Re-Activate Lincoln Base

Legislation authorizing a $5,864,000 global U. S. military construction program, including—the largest single project—$29,451,000 for construction needed to convert the Lincoln municipal airport to an air force base, was signed by President Truman Friday.

Congress has yet to appropriate the funds. But the house military appropriations subcommittee is meeting in day-long sessions to speed necessary legislation to the floor.

The major portion of the proposed construction, nearly $3,500,000, is for strengthening the air force's ground installations in the United States, in the territories and overseas.

This is the largest construction program ever authorized in one lump bill by congress—and there will be more to come when congress reconvenes in January.

Nebraska Projects

The program includes $70,000,000 worth of projects in Nebraska. Hastings Naval Ammunition depot is slated for a $20,298,400 project; Offutt Air Force base for $19,063,000, the Sioux Ordnance depot at Sidney for $809,100 and the Army Map service in Omaha for $260,000.

Negotiations between the city and the air force on the problems involved with reactivation have been reported by Councilman Chauncey W. D. Kinsey as progressing in an orderly, satisfactory manner.

Kinsey reported that City Engineer D. L. Erickson was presently engaged in engineering studies at the base to determine what might be needed to accommodate the jet bombers which will be housed at the field. Construction of new runways and additional hanger space are two of the problems involved.

The acquisition of additional land for the military on the west side of the creek through Huskerville is another problem Kinsey said was being solved. It was indicated that the military would take over the Huskerville housing area.

The bill authorizing the reactivation includes approval of various new constructions and the acquisition of additional land. It has been estimated that personnel at the base will number about 1,000 officers and 5,000 enlisted men.

Viewmen Edge Blair, 18-13; NE Falls Before Tiger Attack, 28-13

Lyman Hull Hero In Last Second Thrust

BLAIR, Neb. — (Lincoln Star Special)—College View kept their victory string intact by the barest of margins here Friday night as Coach Tom Gillaspie's charges came from behind to ring up an 18-13 Eastern Nebraska Seven conference win over a scrapping Blair eleven.

College View notched the victory in the last seven seconds of play as Halfback Lyman Hull took a 32-yard pass in the end zone from Quarterback Clyde Cook.

The Viewmen had trailed since near the end of the first half when

John Steinauer Paces Bluebirds

By HOBE HAYS

Cathedral's six-man football squad easily trounced a badly outclassed St. Pat's half dozen, 67-18, on the College View grid-iron Friday night.

With John Steinauer running like a jack-rabbit among a flock of sheep with overthrows, the Cathedral six bounded out to a substantial lead in remarkably short time. Steinauer took a lateral on the first play from scrimmage and sprinted 50 yards with only frantic gestures of a tackle to stop him.

This being completed, Cathedral kicked off and in short order had St. Pat's punting. Steinauer repeated the play from scrimmage, which began on the 20 due to a partially blocked kick, and raced away to the end zone without any attempt.

Again the Bluebirds kicked off, but St. Pat's could go nowhere and kicked the ball back. Steinauer, who later on caused trouble for St. Pat's, took a hand-off and stepped out once more to pay-dirt. This made the score 21-0 (Ed Cripe had been running the extra point over on all three occasions with just as much ease).

Joe Clark intercepted a pass on the 30 and scored next, so coach Vince Aldrich pulled his starters before things got lopsided.

But this didn't do any good, because Donny Costin caught it all the way for another 6 points. Joe Clark plunged for the second time, but he was stopped by St. Pat's. Costin's batting more or less on even terms with the Cathedral's sub, and he scored the second shot from John Roewe to B. Cottrell for 30 yards and a touchdown. The try for point was no good.

Stan Peters played a second quarter pass to Earl Whitman and the Bluebirds were off to the races. The try for point was no good. The half ended, and when they came out again, there was Steinauer in the lineup. After Ed Cripe had picked up 20 yards to the St. Pat's 15, John's touchdown skirted left end to make the score 47-18. Cripe changed it to 49 on the next play.

Wayne Reeves blocked a punt a short time later and chased it down to set up the next play. From 19 yards out, Steinauer hurried around the left side, his favorite, and hoisted the markers to 54. Cripe passed to Henry Steinauer and it was 55.

At this point, the future of the game was threatened due to the uneven balance of points, but before the totals could be figured, Steinauer kicked off for five yards and another point on the scoreboard. This play was set up by a nice interception by John Gouliaris, who covered 30 yards.

Ends—Reeves, H. Steinauer, Bertie Fagan, Truman Krueger, Vaughn, Studnicka, Caters—Neal, Cowan, Mobley, Backs—Rice, Cline, Steinauer, Gouliaris, Williams, Costin, Brady, Peters, Francis, Rubitsch.

Rockets' Slosson Scores On 101 Yard Run

FREMONT, Neb. — Fremont's Tigers handed Northeast its second straight defeat Friday night, as they downed the Rockets, 28-13.

Paced by hard-running Fullback Johnny Neff, the Tigers jumped to a quick 7-0 lead after 1:57 of the first quarter and never let Northeast come close.

The Rockets did not score until the last quarter, and by then Fremont was ahead 28-0. Merlin Slosson, Northeast halfback, did, however, give the Lincoln fans something to cheer about when, on the last play of the game, he intercepted a Fremont pass in the end zone and ran 101 yards for a touchdown.

Fremont's first touchdown came on a 33-yard run by halfback Jerry Wagner. Jack Beck made the extra point, the first of four straight for the evening.

AIR ROUTE

The Tigers' second TD came via the air route when a second quarter pass from quarterback Donahue to end Bill Bartelsson struck pay dirt. The play covered 29 yards. Beck's conversion made it 14-0 as the teams left the field at halftime.

Fremont completed its scoring in the third quarter as two breaks were turned into scoring opportunities.

Ernie Snyder, Fremont right end, stole the ball from the Rockets' Eric Forbes and ran 32 yards to paydirt. Beck split the uprights with his kick and it was 21-0. Forbes was back in the Rockets' hair all evening as he repeatedly bit off large chunks of yardage. The Tigers rolled to 22-0 when Neff personally accounted for a lion's share of it.

Rocket standbys were End Leroy Hickey and Guard Ray Lewis.

Wm. & Mary To Be Tough For Sooners

NORMAN, Okla.—(AP)—Un-tested Oklahoma, relieved of the pressure of a winning streak that carried through 31 games, opens the 1951 football season today against big, rugged William & Mary.

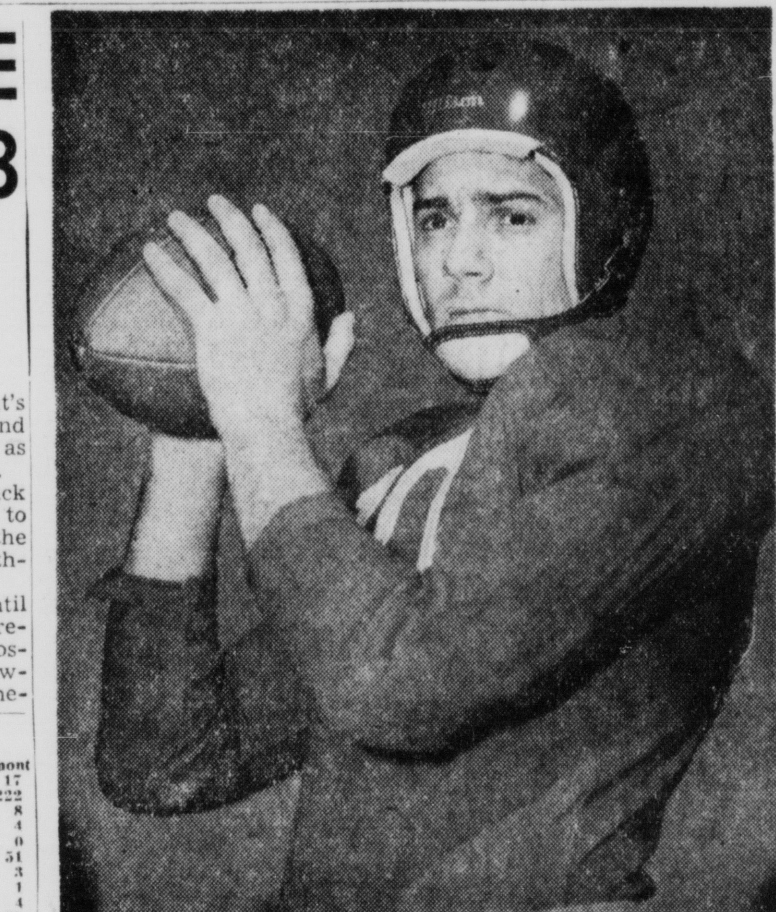

The Sooners are as much as a 30-point favorite, although Coach Bud Wilkinson claims injuries and a general lack of hustle make his team the weak sister.

William & Mary displayed a big, fast moving squad in beating Boston university, 34-25, in its season opener last week.

Probable starting lineups:
W.M. & MARY
Lockett, Weatherall, Nelson, Catlin, Roberts, Ball, Crowder, Vrecks, Silva, McPhail.

Wayne Raps Plainsmen In Easy 30-7 Triumph

BY DON STRASHEIM

(Star Sports Staff Member)

WAYNE State Teachers took advantage of crisp blocking and some excellent running by the backs to wade through Nebraska Wesleyan 30-7 Friday night.

Coach Jack Wink's gridders continued their winning streak over the Plainsmen. Last year the Wildcats won 32-6 and in 1949 managed a 20-13 verdict.

Wesleyan Coach Roy Robertson played a team of youngsters that made many mistakes but should improve as the season continues.

The Plainsmen were too inexperienced for the strong Wayne outfit that ran its offense from both the T-formation and single wing.

ner were bright spots in the spotty Plainsman defense.

Don Kane, Rollie Gast, Butch Ohlund and Duane Luebe lead the Wayne Wildcats to an easy 18-0 halftime lead.

There was little doubt about the outcome of the game after the first 10 minutes.

With less than nine minutes to go in the first period Rollie Gast supplied the spark for the first tally with a 28-yard drive on a trap play over the center of the line.

KANE CARRIES
Don Kane picked up eight yards going around his right end and made 15 more over left tackle veering to the outside.

Gast then fired a pass to Kane that was good for 18-yards and the touchdown.

Howard DuBois blocked Luebe's try for point. Score, 6-0.

Wayne scored again with only 1:07 gone in the second quarter. It took only seven plays including an incomplete pass.

Kane carried for four yards—Gast made 10—Luebe ran a quarterback sneak for 18 yards before the first stanza was complete.

Lewis Walker then smeared Kane for a yard loss. Ohlund picked up three yards around the left end.

After the incomplete pass stopped the clock the Wildcat field general called a pass play in which Kane tossed to Luebe, who was hit on the 10-yard line but bulled his way across the double stripe. Try for point was no good.

LEWIS FUMBLES
Later in the period Larry Lewis fumbled on the Wesleyan 33-yard line and Merlin Miller recovered for the Wildcats.

National League Chase Knotted As Phillies Dump Dodgers, 4-3

Ashburn Crosses With Winning Run In Ninth

(From Press Dispatches)

Willie (Puddinhead) Jones lashed out a ninth inning single to score speedy Richie Ashburn from second and give the Phillies a 4 to 3 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night, in the first game of their final three-game series. The defeat dropped Brooklyn into a tie with the idle New York Giants for the National league lead with two games left for each club.

Andy Seminick's home run with one on base in the eighth had tied the score for the Phillies as Carl Erskine failed to hold a three-run lead.

A chilled crowd of 18,895 cheered when Seminick came through in the eighth with his eleventh homer of the season and his first in a month and a half. Gran Hammer, who had drawn the third walk off Erskine, scored ahead of him and made it a ball game.

Ashburn opened the home half of the ninth with a Texas-league single down the left field foul line. Dick Sisler advanced him with a sacrifice and Bill Nicholson was given an intentional pass.

Then Jones, who had connected for a rousing double his first time at bat, slashed a single into left center and Ashburn slid home well in front of Andy Pafko's throw for the winning run.

Allie Reynolds Gets Year's Second No-Hitter

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Yankees swamped the Boston Red Sox twice Friday to clinch their 18th American league pennant in 30 years, but the feat almost escaped notice as Allie Reynolds, the fire-baller from Oklahoma, spun his second no-hit game of the season in the opener.

Never before in the American league and only once before in the history of the major leagues had a hurler pitched no-hit games twice in a single campaign. The wild scene in the Bombers' dressing room after the big Indian whopped the Sox, 8 to 0, even eclipsed the tumult of the "victory celebration" which followed Vic Raschi's 11 to 3 triumph in the deciding.

The triumphs boosted the Yankees lead to 3½ games over second-place Cleveland and eliminated the Indians from the race. The Yankees have three games to play and the Indians two. The victories also clinched second place for Cleveland.

A crowd of 39,038 which had paid its way into watch the champions sew up their third straight flag got double its money's worth as Reynolds, scoring his 17th decision of the year, permitted only four Red Sox to reach first base on passes and choked them off right there. He gave the bemused Sox nothing remotely resembling a safety.

The righthander's other no-hitter this season was pitched against his old teammates, the Cleveland Indians, on July 12 at Cleveland. The only other hurler to notch a pair in the same campaign was Johnny Vander Meer, the storied lefthander who pitched two in succession for Cincinnati back in 1938.

In putting the flag beyond reach of the stranded Cleveland club of the nightcap, Raschi was only slightly less effective. He gave up six hits, but he strung the last three of them over the final seven innings and never had a worry after his teammates piled seven runs across in the second chapter. It was his 21st win of the year against ten defeats.

A bases-empty home run by Ed Stewart gave the Chicago White Sox a tenth-inning victory over the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, in the second game of a two-night doubleheader. Chicago also grabbed the opener, 6-2, as the Browns were handed their 100th and 101st defeat of the season.

and McCarthy get their sides chosen up.

One thing about the Benton-McCarthy battle... it's going to make it a lot easier for the voters to decide which one they can get along without the easiest.

This isn't the kind of quarrel from which both sides emerge victorious.

All I know about Benton is that he was Bowles' advertising partner... Come to think of it, that's all I know about Bowles.

But these boys have come a long way since they were plugging soap chips.

QUIRKS

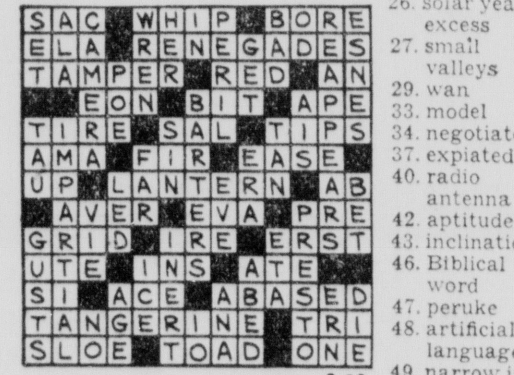

SEATTLE — Patrolman Cliff Holmes, making a pinch on a speeding charge, didn't ask, "Where's the fire?" He didn't have to. As he was writing out a ticket for Jonker Gerhart, 22, of Tacoma, smoke and flames suddenly shot from beneath the hood. The officer ran into a nearby store for an extinguisher and doused the blaze. Then he finished writing the ticket, charging driving 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. "Hottest ticket I ever received," said Gerhart.
